

MARCH FOR SCIENCE

— Redding, California —

- Who: Anyone that believes science matters
- What: 1.5 mile March, in solidarity with 426 other Marches for Science taking place around the U.S.
- Where: Starting at the south end of the Redding Promenade; Ending in front of City Hall, at the Whole Earth and Watershed Festival
- When: April 22, 2017, 10:30 am
- Why: To support evidence-based policy & continued investment in scientific research and education
- More: Join us after the March for live speakers and to learn how YOU can continue to support science. There will also be a free shuttle to return you to the parking garage after the event

