

Film Screening: “Over Troubled Waters”

Friday October 5th 6:30 – 8pm

First United Methodist Church 1825 East St. Redding 96001

Over Troubled Waters is a documentary about the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta watershed. In this visually rich documentary, Ed Begley Jr. narrates the story of how the people of the Delta are fighting to protect the region they love and to encourage saner, sustainable water policies for all the people of California.

Over Troubled Waters has been recognized as an official selection of the 2013 San Francisco Frozen Film Festival, 2013 Wild & Scenic Film Festival, the Tiburon International Film Festival and the NorCal Film Festival. Over Troubled Waters was the winner of the Best Documentary Short at the 2012 Nevada Film Festival.

Special Presentation by Barbara Barrington-Parrilla, Executive Director of Restore the Delta immediately following the film. She will share the latest information about the current water situation which directly affects people in the north state.

Special Video Presentation: Adam Scow, California Director of Food and Water Watch, a food and water advocacy group, will share important updates on their ongoing work.

Q and A: Audience will be able to ask questions as time permits.
